IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

VISA

Once you have been accepted for a period of exchange at UTFPR, it is necessary to apply for a temporary visa IV at a Brazilian consulate in your country. Brazilian visas are not awarded in national territory, airports, ports or at points of entry of the Brazilian border.

In order to apply for the visa, you must submit an online application, then present yourself to the Brazilian consulate with the following documents: the printed and signed Receipt; your passport; a recent ID photo; a Negative Certificate of Criminal Background; proof of financial ability or scholarship to remain in Brazil during the exchange period; proof of means of transportation in and out of Brazil; proof of payment of consular fees; and proof of active enrollment at the University.

Remember to visit the consulate website to confirm which documents you will need.

The temporary visa IV fees range from 100 to 300 dollars, depending on the country. The documents must be in Portuguese, English, French or Spanish, otherwise they can be accepted by sworn translation into Portuguese.

The temporary IV visa will be issued within 10 business days. It is recommended that the request for the visa is made at least 60 days before the date of travel.

Registration in the Federal Police Department (DPF): you must present yourself to the DPF within 30 days of your entry in Brazil.

Remember: the temporary IV visa (VITEM IV) is only granted to those who come to Brazil as a student, without any paid activity, except for those who are attending in higher education institutions for internship programs - if that's your case, you must also present proof of the internship signed by you and your supervisor.

CRNM

Within 30 days after your arrival and holding the temporary visa IV (VITEM IV), you must schedule an appointment and present yourself to the Federal Police Department, where you will be registered to receive the CRNM. The National Migration Registry Card (CRNM) is an ID for temporarily admitted foreigners in Brazil, and it's valid throughout the national territory. The National Migration Registry (RNM) is the registration number informed in the CRNM.

In order to issue the CRNM, you must first access the DPF website at <http://www.pf.gov.br/servicos-pf/imigracao> to register your temporary visa (at "Registro de Visto Consular"). Then submit the form with your personal information and generate the payment form in the amount of 204.77 BRL. After that, you must schedule a visit to the Federal Police Department to present the required documents (you can get the checklist at the DPF website).

The nearest Federal Police station (Polícia Federal) is located at Rua Paraná, 1264, Cascavel, 46 km from campus Toledo (Phone: +55 45 3220 6800).
